Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
1 Blossom in the Gardens of Creation, just as God causes a vast garden of little and big flowers to blossom before your eyes.	2 Bring to the world the time of an eternal spring, in which each being may express the best that they have within them.	3 Let the Gardeners of the Universe, who come to meet you in divine vestments, cultivate within you that which is perfect and which is unknown to you.	4 That the Principles of God may within humankind, grow, and produce flowers and fruits, in order to sow, in the hearts a universal life, the Perfection of God, the eternal obedience to His Laws.	5 That one who, in the simplicity of My words, finds the grandest mysteries will be happy and be called blessed in the Kingdom of God, for they will have carried out His Plan of Love.	6 The essence of the spirit that consecrates itself must be renew itself every day in the adventure that is the losing of self in order to find, in its place, the Living Christ.	7 Dear ones, Christ wishes to be alive not only in the Eucharist, for He wants to be the living Eucharist within each being of this world.
8 Your bodies must make space for the Mystical Body of Christ, in order that He may be the Life that animates not only the soul, but also all of which you are composed, from matter to spirit.	9 The transformation in Christ is slow and at times painful, but you will not be able to run away from it, because Christ is transforming everything that you are, and He is with you wherever you are.	10 With all that you have already received, the seed of a new heart is already beginning to pulse within your beings: it is the Heart of Christ, that which asks for a space in order that He may be your Commander.	11 These are sorrowful times for those who do not make of their own inner transition a moment of Grace and of surrender.	12 Go forward soldiers! Be a little braver so that you may see, in the losing of yourself, the great Victory of Christ.	13 The Lord only triumphs when He defeats you, because He must be the Great King of your inner world, and not you yourselves.	14 Surrender yourselves, for it is now time to allow yourselves to be led by the Universal King.
15 Instead of following the currents of illusion of the planet, be like a boat that rows against that current, carrying souls to the new.	16 There is no greater service than a true prayer, that in which the heart does not find boundaries and does not need to go so far, nor delay too much, in order to be before those most in need.	17 If you ask God to bring you to encounter those most in need, then when the Lord is placed before each prayer throughout the day, there you will find the response to your requests.	18 If in the times of prayer, you are tepid, sleeping, and without enthusiasm to meet with God, it is because you have not discovered the essence of service: the heart that prays.	19 The greatest service is that which brings a Divine Presence to hearts; it is that which places the essences before the possibility of returning to their origin.	20 All those who accept to live the path of humility, of prayer, and of surrender are in truth missionary hearts and spirits.	21 Make of your lives the perfect work of service for humanity and for the planet.
22 In everything there exists the possibility of serving, and that in all of your prayers you can cross boundaries and reach to those who are most in need of help.	23 Praying before My Most Chaste Heart you will accompany Me to the Middle East and in this way alleviate the little hearts of many children that have already lost the hope of being happy.	24 Learn every day, dear ones, to transcend yourselves so that the Light of God may reach those most lost and forgotten among humankind and among the Kingdoms of Nature.	25 Learn to be eternal missionaries and to carry out on Earth this universal mission, that in which your personal transformation will result in the salvation and evolution of all of the Universe.	26 Radiate light to the eyes of humankind by your examples.	27 To find the life of the spirit and to bring completion to existence with the discovery of the Truth, you must be simple of heart.	28 I know that for many it is not easy to detach from the musings of the mind and from its endless fountain of ideas and suggestions. But this is why I ask you to practice silence.
29 What a great secret will this be that, when unveiled, unites a creature with their Creator? It is the development of the heart.	30 This moment is so difficult for many because for many beings of this world it is hard to believe in the path of simplicity.	31 You must be simple, meek, and humble to find the Doorways of Heaven.
