DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS???????

Enter into My Chaste Heart, so that it reveals the unfathomable mysteries of simplicity, of humility and the purity of intention.

It will be in the simple, humble and pure heart that the Lord will inhabit, when His Christic Essence starts to renovate the world by means of the hearts of humankind. For this reason, seek to yourself a simple heart. This means a heart that is adhered to the Higher Will and that does not generate resistances against the manifestation of the Plans of God.

A simple heart is the one which flows according to the need that presents itself and that does not generate conflicts in any level of consciousness.

A simple heart does not hold anything to itself and does not seek to understand all things before living them; it lives them as God entrusts them for its life, and let the understanding emerge from the experience.

A simple heart also needs to be humble in order to not believe it is better than the others for its simplicity. If it does not generate apparent conflicts and, however, judges the difficulties of the others with the things of life and wants everyone to be as simple as it is, it is worthless the simplicity of this heart.

The simple heart must be humble to be naturally simple, to be simple and nothing else; in order to want not to show its own simplicity or ease of accepting the circumstances of life. If the heart is simple and humble, it understands the neighbor and, even in silence, helps them with the example, so that they take their steps and overcome their own resistances.

The heart that is simple and humble, when it is also pure in its intentions, can naturally inherit the Kingdom of God and experience His Immense Love because it becomes worthy of receiving it, even if it does not know it.

The heart that is truly simple, humble and pure of intention will never know it is so. First because it does not keep thinking about itself and its own attributes, and second because its attention is always turned to the present, to the need, to the neighbor.

If you want to make of your heart a simple, humble and pure of intention heart, so forget you want to do it and dedicate yourself only to loving the neighbor and, mostly, God. Seek each instant the need of His Plan, not for you to be a worker of something, but only because you know the Creator expects that you minimally fulfill your part.

You know that what you do does not have any extraordinary merit. What happens is that you make the minimum while the majority sleeps.

Be thankful for being a child of Mercy and allow that your own gratitude conducts you to the manifestation of the Purpose of God in yourself. If you are truly grateful, you will never resist to something which the Lord sends you, because all will be little before the greatness of the Mercy that removed you from the abysses of this world.

For this reason, child, always give thanks to God, serve and forget yourself. In this way you will make yourself simple, humble and pure of intention, without you even being aware of it. Thus, you will be worthy of, some day, receiving in your dwelling the King of the kings, your Lord and Master, Christ Jesus.

The one who prepares you to the return of Christ in your interior,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
