Apparition of Saint Joseph at the Marian Center of Figueira, Minas Gerais, Brazil, to the visionary Sister Lucía de Jesús

When Baby Jesus was small, Most Holy Mary was a young woman and I had to leave their Sacred and Pure Hearts to be beside God. My Heart was anguished.

My life had always been a life of resignation, from the beginning to the end, this was the form God shaped My human condition and manifested in My Being, in all My consciousness, His Divine Purpose.

To resign, children, was never a simple thing for Me. My Heart - as each human heart - was full of attachments, wills, that little by little were sublimated, but it was in the last minute of My life, when I had to resign being with Mary and Jesus, that finally I was able to surrender the human will and experience the Will of God.

This is the impulse I bring you for the last day of the novena (1) that I am transmitting to you, because in order to start a new cycle it is necessary to resign the past cycle, placing all in the hands of God so that nothing belongs to you, only the Grace of being in emptiness.

On this last day, you will pray to the Father in My Name, for you to learn to resign and, like me, take sure steps, because you will be empty of yourselves and full of God:

Lord, as you taught Saint Joseph to resign, until the last minute of His life,
teach us to resign, teach us to surrender our lives
and give us the Grace of being in emptiness, in the nothingness that leads us to the plenitude of Your Heart.

Amen.

Today I come on a special request of My Son, because He honors the hearts that are small and that are simple. I came here not only to speak to you once more, I came to imprint in your essences the example of My life, of My Chaste Heart, so that this way you learn to take secure steps.

Today I come to invite you to surrender, at the feet of this altar, all the pride and human will, for you to start this new cycle in a different way, a little emptier of yourselves. Because in Heaven you are considered soldiers of God, an army that works for Peace and that makes an effort or should make an effort every day for this purpose of Peace to manifest itself not only in your lives, but on the whole planet.

Children, the Consciousness of this world, which is a Consciousness of perpetual sacrifice, is agonizing. Its Spirit cannot support the Earth anymore, cannot sustain the chaos and the evil that struggles in humanity.

Therefore, I come today in the name of this Consciousness, in the name of this Sacred Consciousness, of the spirit of resignation, of abnegation, that comes to deposit its experience on the planet, for humanity to learn what is the essence of the Plan of God for Earth. All those who came from heaven, from the stars, to learn in this world, came to experience a learning of resignation, of surrender, of service, in order to balance their debts and to learn to love.

Those who fulfilled this Purpose experienced and are experiencing to this day, with plenitude, the constant surrender of their hearts, of their evolution and often, children, resign also to the Will of God for their consciousnesses, to wait for others to be able to take steps together with them.

Today, I want to reveal to you a mystery for strengthening your lives. Not for you to take it with the same indifference with which humanity has seen all the revelations that the Universe presented them pass by.

This planet is very ancient and guards within it many stories, however, the Universe and the Cosmos, that are upon you all the time, are much more ancient than it.

This infinite Cosmos, that came from the Divine Consciousness as a great aspiration of God to be renewed, followed its evolution. God created the angels, the archangels, the suns, the planets, He created the dimensions that little by little separated Him from His creatures, not so that He would not be with them, but for them to strengthen themselves, crossing one obstacle after the other, until returning to the Divine Consciousness.

And these creatures multiplied, monitored by angels and archangels, and started developing their evolution. The archangels were respected as the real governors of the Universe because They brought the Divine Thought. Their will was the Will of God. They represented the nearest expression of the Creator to His creatures. This way, they were loved and respected by all. Their word was law that was kept alive in the heart of all creatures.

But the beings of the universe - who knew how to share goodness, but lacked something - were not able to cross the dimensions to reach the Heart of God. And the Creator manifested a Divine Project that would be full of difficulties, but that would keep in itself a great potential to transform all life on Earth.

This Project was created by an archangel, who got confused with his own creations, to the point of allowing himself to be deceived by those creatures that were manifested to be the obstacles of life on Earth. His eyes did not shine like the light anymore, but even so, many creatures respected him. His deceits, his mistakes, led many beings of the universe to commit serious, irreparable mistakes, that caused wounds that reached the Heart of God. But the Project on Earth was not stopped because, even so, the creatures that would live on Earth kept a potential of a unique love, capable of converting even the darkest of the creatures, and this way, bringing back the shine of the eyes of that Creator Father, so loved by the Universe, that sovereign archangel, who, confused by false laws, fell into error.

The Project of Earth, children, is still a hope in the Heart of God, not only for the souls to experience Redemption, but also for those who are in the Cosmos and still wait to be able to cross the dimensions to reach the Heart of the Father, to be able to return.

And I reveal to you a greater mystery: these creatures, all the creatures who left the Heart of God when He multiplied Himself into Three, must return not only for God to experience Unity, but also for the Creator to renew Himself, overcome Himself in Love through His creatures, who are living parts of His Heart; thus, one day a new evolution begins, based on the love that was born on Earth, that redeemed human life and the Universal life, until the Heart of God is renewed and overcome.

Many may think that this destiny is distant, that this reality is so far away from their lives, but I come to tell you, My children, that this reality begins within each one of you when you are able to transcend the human condition, the very small difficulties, the petty thought that is always upon you and that does not let you understand that you are not on this Earth only for your own evolution, but for the divine evolution, because you are part of the Consciousness of God; that you are so mistaken and so lost as that Creator Father who got confused in the Universe.

Today, I come to open your eyes, at the request of My Son, for you to awaken to a superior Truth and not be mistaken anymore. The priorities of your lives must be different, even if your feet have to touch the ground every day until the end of your evolution on Earth.

Through you, by the real awakening of your hearts, life on Earth transforms itself and this smallness of everyday life will not be the only reason for human existence anymore. You did not come to the world only to be born, study, work, get married, have children, get old and die. This is not the meaning of life. It was not for this that God created humanity.

Let this hidden potential, that reveals the real meaning of the human existence, awake in your essences. Let this Purpose, My children, convert your lives and transform them, not for you to quit studying or working, but for you to become an engine of transformation in the places where you study, where you work, where you live. Be the living seed of this superior Purpose that little by little converts all around it to, some day, transform life on Earth and make it sacred.

If there is no rain, rivers do not become full, lakes dry out. Each drop of rain is important for rivers to be renewed and lakes to grow and reflect the Universe in the life on Earth. If you think that you are a small drop in the human existence, I say that this is right, you are a small, simple, almost insignificant drop in humanity; but if your hearts are filled by the divine Grace and if you let yourselves be part of this rain that comes from the Cosmos to renew life on Earth, then yes, My children, this drop has meaning to exist and will make a difference, not only in the life of this world, but in the whole Universe.

Let My words resonate in your hearts, because today I do not speak only to your minds, I am awakening your spirits. I am bringing each one of them here, for them to contemplate your hearts and feel what you are feeling in this moment.

What will you show to these spirits in evolution? I know that many do not believe in My words and, as you cannot see Me with the physical eyes, many do not believe that I am here. But, today, children, let My presence reveal itself inside your hearts. Feel My words as a universal ray that descends onto the world to transform you permanently. And finally, let your spirits in evolution feel hope, even if only for an instant, when your hearts are open to listen to the word of God in the echo of His Messengers.

Today, I do not come to close a cycle with you, I come to begin a new cycle. Therefore, My Verb opens the doors of a new life to you.

Each one of you, My children, must be responsible for your own steps to enter or not enter, through this door that I open to you, that leads to the Universe, to the Infinite; that leads to the Kingdoms that hide inside the Earth, for you to recognize them when they emerge on the surface; for you to have your hearts united to the hearts of the Hierarchies when They manifest themselves in the eyes of the human beings, because many will not understand My words and will not remember them when everything happens. But you must remember, you must keep the heart in peace and experience the moment for which you came to Earth, for which you prepared yourselves for so many years, for which I prepared you in the silence of a persistent instruction, almost invisible to humanity.

Yes, times are getting acute on the planet, but your attention must not be on the human suffering, but in all you can do to repair and balance the life of humanity.

This way, even if the souls suffer, even if the Kingdoms are in pain, the essences, children, can be saved and have an opportunity through the merits generated by your hearts.

At the request of God, soon I will no longer be coming to Earth every day. But, while the Creator allows Me to, I will be with My children, My friends and companions, in a constant attempt that you experience the awakening every Friday. This way, children, God wants to teach you to value the teaching of the Divine Messengers and understand that, truly, times are changing and the soldiers and companions of Christ must be consistent with this change.

Although you will not see Me every day, I will be with you, because My house will not be here only, but the whole planet. My Instruction must expand to all humanity. If My Heart distances itself, apparently, it is not a symbol of abandonment, but a symbol, My children, that you have already grown sufficiently to, little by little, start liberating the Divine Messengers for them to fulfill larger tasks.

During this time, grow, mature your hearts and generate merits so that, one day, you may know the real history of this humanity, that goes way beyond all that I have told you.

Today, once more I hand you the Reliquary of My Heart as a symbol of My eternal gratitude for responding to My call.

Although many of you still do not believe it, when My Son places His feet upon the Earth and His Holy Mother also becomes visible to the human eyes, I will be with Them and the Sacred Family, that one day was the symbol of hope for the humanity, will show itself to the human beings with Divine Hearts, resplendent Spirits that will show you the path and the definite time to begin again.

Today, for a divine Grace, not only the Heart of My Son will be manifested in this bread and in this wine. Today, I take the Reliquary of My Heart off from My chest and, at the request of God, once more, I empty Myself of everything, for love of humanity, for love to the Plan that the Creator has for this Earth and mainly, children, so that one day you may imitate My example, you may return to the Father and make your evolution a triumph to renew and surpass the Heart of God.

Receive this Grace from My Heart that multiplies itself. Extend your hands to Me. And as an infinite mystery, as I consecrate this bread and this wine, I consecrate your souls, your lives and ask you not to be the same. To not surrender to human pride, to the smallness of your personalities. That, finally, you experience the Will of God for each one of you.

May My Heart multiply itself, touch not only your hands, but all your being, entering into your essences, removing the cloaks of illusion, for God to manifest Himself inside of you.

Put the hands on your heart, elevate the bread and the wine and pray with Me Our Father in Aramaic, as My Son taught you such a long time ago.

I ask you to paint, in a very simple way, the Reliquary for My Chaste Heart so that in each Marian Center, every Friday and especially on the 19th of each month, you can contemplate It and remember that It is not only before you, but that, on this day, I deposited It inside of you, for It to transform you little by little, until you are able to be an expression of the new humanity.

With these words, I thank you, I elevate Myself to the Heavens, to the Sublime Kingdoms, with the song of the angels and archangels and in the divine hope that you may renew yourselves, renew the Heart of God, be a breathe to the Heart of Christ, a triumph to the Heavenly Mother and a symbol that it was worthwhile to be among the human beings for so long at the end of times.

I thank you.

Sing. And offer this moment for all of humanity, to the Kingdoms of Nature, for the spirit of the planet and also relieve your wounded heart.

I bless and renew you, in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The most chaste Saint Joseph
