Private Apparition of Saint Joseph in Fatima, Portugal, to the visionary Sister Lucía de Jesús

I come from a Temple where the priestly life is deepened. I come from a Temple where the Presence of God exists in each element, in the air breathed as well as within creatures, in each candle lit as well as in each spirit in adoration.

I come from a Temple where purity exists as a divine and original principle, not only within beings, but between them, in their word, in their actions, in their feelings and thoughts, in their least intentions.

I come from a Temple where there is not only communion with the Body and the Blood of Christ, but also His eternal Presence, His living wisdom, His sacrifice and His surrender.

I come from a Temple where time does not exist, where only Divine Presence, Truth, Essence, unity with the All exist.

I come from a Temple that sustains the planet, where souls constantly contemplate and adore so that this world will not disappear.

I come from a Temple where Divine Thought is living, within and outside of beings, like a flame that is fed by devotion, but also by actions.

Like that Temple, many more exist in different places of the planet, in its interior, hidden from most human eyes, although alive and so palpable for those who seek them and that, with faith, aspire to enter them. Those that are pure in their intentions will enter and know them, and will live in them.

The inner world of the planet, children, holds many mysteries from where the support of life on Earth truly comes. If those Temples of eternal truth did not exist, life in this world would no longer exist.

The Codes left by Jesus in His Passion entered the soil of the Earth and became fertile within it, inside it, in dimensions that were created without the knowledge of common humanity, for few were those who looked inward, within themselves, within the Earth. And like the soil that feeds the roots of trees, that generates life, those inner dimensions feed the spirit and the human heart with that which is true and allow them not be lost through the futilities of this world.

Today I come from a Temple that you aspire to know, a Temple where you all find a place when you are sincere, when you can be what you really are. I would like to lift the human consciousness so that you could know the truth, the true life that dwells in this Earth and which should not be separate from surface life, but which exists to walk together with human evolution.

That Temple, from where I come today, belongs to a Kingdom, as perfect and as sublime as the Celestial Kingdom, because it responds to it, unites to it, because from that it is nurtured, in that it comes to fullness. Like that Kingdom, many more exist, just as sacred as the Universe.

I come from the Kingdom of Lys, that very few know, but I would also like to present you to the Kingdom of Mirna Jad, the Kingdom of Aurora, where Sacred Life is hidden, because human eyes do not open to see it.

In each of those Kingdoms, the Sacred manifests, a healing is available, a path is kept so that you may return to the Origin. And to enter them, children, it is enough that you be simple, in mind and in heart, that you question less and surrender more, that you doubt less, love more, judge less, understand more, think less about what you have not achieved and more about the doors that are open so that you may enter; that you desire the things of the world less and aspire more to those of Heaven; that you are less imprisoned by the past and more alive to the present, that you be less attached to structures, to institutions, and more available to the new, to that which is renewed with the universe, to that which evolves with the Heart of Christ, to that which is renewed with God, that changes and transforms to return, return to the Origin.

Enter with Me into that Temple, that Kingdom, like so many others that open their doors for humanity, and learn here to take the path of return to the Heart of the Father, to heal the deviations, the deceits, to heal the lack of understanding and the wounds. Come to be forgiven so that you learn how to forgive; come to be healed so that you may become healers, healers in silence, that heal with the example, that heal with a look, that heal when they unite their heart with the Heart of God, that heal when they are humble in the face of pride, that heal when they are poor in the face of riches and of arrogance, that heal when they are chaste in the face of lust, of vanity.

Enter into that Temple to which I call you, so that you may aid this world. We are already, children, in the end time of illusion for the Earth, for the truth will emerge like a law that will move the spaces and the inner self of humankind, it will move the Kingdoms of Nature, will move this world, so that it may awaken.

Enter into that Temple to which I call you, so that it may build an unbreakable fortress in you, a fortress that is not overwhelmed by the wind, nor with earth tremors, that is not weakened with the assaults, that is not shaken by the threats of the enemy; a fortress that is built with the spirit of peace and that is unbreakable, not for itself, but rather because of its unity with God.

Let your consciousnesses be uplifted to a higher life, setting aside, even if for a few moments, the petty things of this world, those things that are so small they become large and take over the human mind and heart, because you are still children in the spiritual life and do not know how to set your priorities to find God.

Many still do not understand the urgency of these times, and thus they lose themselves in small things. The time has come, children, that you return to the sacred and that the Words we have given you for so many years come alive. How many times have you heard this phrase? How many times have we asked you to live Our Messages?

To respond to that request should no longer be an option, but a need, because this world is lifeless, and life comes from God. Real air comes from the Breath of Spirit, that nurtures you and supports you. One who does not breathe of this breath, even though they are standing, will die, even though they walk, they will be empty.

Help this world to awaken, help your brothers and sisters to find the truth, give a drink to those who thirst for God, show the source to those who are empty, because it is now time to grow up and prepare a path that is worthy in this world for the King of the Universe to return.

Get to know the Divine Kingdoms, that are mirrored within the Earth, in the Sacred Centers, because one day they will emerge on the surface, and those who recognize their doors will be able to enter to begin life anew on Earth, as it should be from the beginning.

If My Words are incomprehensible to you, simply feel them, let them enter within you as a truth that transforms you and, in this way, children, it will not be a burden for you to experience your transformation.

Today I leave the door open for you so that you may take a new step and enter with Me into that Kingdom, into that Temple, like in so many others that are under your feet that you do not see.

Pray from the heart and allow the Lord to reveal His Mysteries to you. Let your guardian angels lead you in each instant of your life, so that you take sure steps, anchored in Divine Will rather than in your own.

Let each beginning of a new cycle truly renew and uplift you; if you do so, when the last comes, it will find you ready to take a definitive step. Today I lead your essences to the Sacred Temples of the interior of the Earth, so that you may be renewed and allow the human strength to be substituted by the Power of God.

Today My Words are like a key that opens the door for you to that which was always unknown and that now must no longer be. Allow yourselves to be led, let yourselves be guided and thus, My children, you will be in the right place where God has need of you so that you may aid humanity, when you are ready for that.

Do not only ask where the Sacred Kingdoms of the inner Earth are or what they are. Humbly ask to know them in essence, and that they may live in you like a divine understanding, a wisdom that is born from the depths of your inner self, a healing that emerges and renews you, a water that washes and purifies you.

Do not expect that the Sacred Centers, the Kingdoms in the inner Earth will manifest like the Kingdoms of this world. They express in you like a state of consciousness, a state of spirit. Simply live and be those Divine Emanations.

Let Mirna Jad express as a healing that frees you from the past; let the Kingdom of Lys express as a purity that emerges from within; let Aurora express as a higher will that leads you to institute a new life on Earth.

I leave you today with these impulses, which are simple and profound at the same time, as Divine Life is, that are clear and mysterious at the same time, understandable and unknown. Simply let them live in each of you.

With My Words and by the authority God granted Me, I bless you and renew you.

In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Amen.
